

EVENING ROUNDUP

A Daily Evening Report on Bullion, Base Metals and Energy Commodities

Tuesday, January 30, 2024

- Gold prices edged higher with moderate moves amid escalating tensions in the Middle East, while the market players cautiously await U.S. Federal Reserve's two day policy meet that begin today and the statements from the Chair Jerome Powell for fresh cues on the central bank's interest rate trajectory.
- Crude oil prices inched up as escalating geopolitical tensions in major producing region the Middle East fueled supply concerns. Tensions were heightened after Houthi rebels intensified their attacks on boats in the Red Sea, striking a fuel tanker controlled by Trafigura, and as a drone strike on American soldiers in Jordan earlier this week.
- The head of Russian oil major Gazprom Neft said that there is no need for additional oil supply cuts by OPEC+ oil producers, days before the group is due to meet on output policy. OPEC+ have agreed to voluntary output cuts totalling about 2.2 million barrels per day for the first quarter led by Saudi Arabia rolling over a 1 million bpd voluntary reduction.
- Saudi Aramco said it was asked to cut its planned maximum sustainable oil production capacity to 12 million barrels a day (bpd), having raised it to 13 million bpd almost four years ago.
- QatarEnergy and U.S. based Exceleerate Energy signed a 15-year agreement to supply 1 million metric tons per year of liquefied natural gas (LNG) to be delivered to Bangladesh for 15 years from January 2026.
- The Chilean miner Antofagasta reported a 2% rise in 2023 copper production to 660,600 metric tons on higher output at its flagship project Los Pelambres due to improved water availability.
