NIFTY CHART

Nifty staged a strong recovery after revisiting its expected support base near 25150, with sustained buying throughout the session helping the index register a close at 25514. The rebound has improved the near-term technical structure, with the 5 DEMA shifting higher to 25320 and providing immediate support. However, RSI and ADX readings remain in overbought territory, warranting caution against aggressive buying at elevated levels. A sustained hold above 25500 could extend the rally towards 25670, while 25320 and 25150 remain immediate support levels to track today. With monthly expiry approaching and Tuesday's market holiday resulting in a truncated week, rollover activity could remain significant in today's session. The near-term bias remains positive, but fresh longs should be approached selectively given the elevated momentum readings. Defending the 25000 mark will be crucial to preserving the broader recovery structure.
