#STOCK SPECIFIC NEWS

Biocon Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated net profit increased more than fourfold YoY to ₹141 crore, while revenue rose 10% to ₹4,336 crore. Biosimilars remained the principal growth driver, while EBITDA increased to ₹847 crore and margin remained broadly stable at 19.5%. The performance strengthens earnings visibility from Biocon Biologics, although execution on debt reduction and biosimilar launches remains important.

Reuters

Bayer CropScience Ltd

Q1 profit increased 15.4% YoY to ₹322 crore despite a sluggish start to the monsoon season. Lower expenditure supported profitability even as weather conditions moderated agricultural input demand. The result indicates resilient cost management, while subsequent demand will remain linked to rainfall distribution and crop sowing trends.

Reuters

Cummins India Ltd

Standalone Q1FY27 revenue increased 17.5% YoY to ₹3,426 crore, supported by domestic demand across power generation, industrial and automotive applications. Net profit declined 7.8% to ₹543 crore and EBITDA margin contracted to 18% from 21.7%, reflecting higher costs and an unfavourable comparison with the previous period. The result indicates strong demand but near-term profitability pressure.

Reuters

Aurobindo Pharma Ltd

The company reported a 25% YoY increase in Q1FY27 profit, with revenue rising to approximately ₹9,150 crore and operating margins improving. The result indicates healthy execution across its pharmaceutical portfolio despite elevated freight and raw-material costs. Future performance will depend on US product launches, regulatory compliance and the contribution from complex generics.

NSE Filing

Berger Paints India Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 12% YoY to ₹3,584 crore, while net profit rose 28.5% to ₹404 crore. EBITDA increased 15% to approximately ₹607 crore, indicating earnings growth ahead of revenue despite raw-material and competitive pressures. Demand recovery and pricing discipline will remain central to sustaining margins.

NSE Filing

JK Lakshmi Cement Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 9.4% YoY to ₹1,905 crore, but net profit declined 28% to ₹108 crore. EBITDA fell 16.9% and margin contracted to 13.6% from 17.9%, indicating that higher revenue did not offset cost and realisation pressure. Near-term earnings remain sensitive to cement pricing, fuel costs and operating leverage.

NSE Filing

Whirlpool of India Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 12.1% YoY to ₹2,727 crore, while net profit declined 29.5% to ₹103 crore. EBITDA fell 33.9% to ₹139 crore and margin contracted to 5.1% from 8.7%, primarily reflecting higher raw-material costs. The result indicates healthy sales growth but significant pressure on unit economics.

NSE Filing

Aster DM Quality Care Ltd

Q1FY27 revenue increased 21.6% YoY to ₹1,311 crore, while consolidated net profit declined 81.2% to ₹16 crore. The divergence between revenue and profit indicates a materially weaker earnings conversion during the quarter. Hospital occupancy, pricing, cost control and the absence of prior-period gains will determine the normalised earnings trajectory.

NSE Filing

Asahi India Glass Ltd

Q1FY27 revenue increased 15% YoY to ₹1,413 crore, while consolidated net profit rose to ₹149 crore from ₹56.2 crore. EBITDA increased 68.9% to ₹325 crore and margin expanded to 23% from 15.7%. The improvement indicates strong operating leverage and a favourable mix across automotive and architectural glass operations.

NSE Filing

Godrej Agrovet Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 9.2% YoY to ₹2,855 crore, but net profit declined 16.2% to ₹135 crore. EBITDA fell 10.9% and margin contracted to 8.4% from 10.3%. The result reflects weaker profitability despite revenue growth, highlighting sensitivity to input costs, commodity cycles and segment mix.

NSE Filing

Time Technoplast Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 25.1% YoY to ₹1,693 crore, while net profit rose 22% to ₹116 crore. EBITDA increased 15.1%, although margin contracted by 110 basis points to 13.3%. Growth remained healthy, but the margin decline indicates that input-cost and mix pressures partly offset operating leverage.

NSE Filing

Kirloskar Ferrous Industries Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 4.4% YoY to ₹1,772 crore, while net profit declined 65.4% to ₹82.3 crore. EBITDA remained broadly flat and margin moderated to 12.1%, while the quarter included a one-time loss and the base period benefited from a tax write-back. The reported PAT decline therefore overstates the underlying operating deterioration.

NSE Filing

Gateway Distriparks Ltd

Q1FY27 revenue remained broadly flat at ₹549 crore, while consolidated net profit declined 18.9% to ₹48.8 crore. EBITDA decreased modestly and margin moderated to 21.3%, indicating limited operating growth during the quarter. Container volumes, rail utilisation and logistics pricing remain the principal operational drivers.

NSE Filing

Rane (Madras) Ltd

Q1FY27 consolidated revenue increased 18.3% YoY to ₹1,042 crore, while net profit rose 62.4% to ₹30.1 crore. EBITDA increased 16.2%, although margin remained broadly stable at 8.3%. The performance reflects healthy automotive demand and earnings leverage, with margins remaining exposed to commodity and customer-mix movements.

NSE Filing

Paisalo Digital Ltd

Q1FY27 total income increased 19% YoY to ₹260 crore and consolidated net profit rose 30% to ₹61.3 crore. Interest income increased strongly, indicating continued expansion in the lending franchise. Asset quality, funding costs and capital adequacy remain the principal variables for assessing the sustainability of growth.

Macro, Markets and Policy Developments

RBI Maintains Repo Rate at 5.25%

The Monetary Policy Committee kept the policy repo rate unchanged at 5.25%, in line with expectations. The decision reflects a preference to await clearer evidence on inflation, particularly the impact of energy prices and geopolitical uncertainty. Rate stability is supportive for credit-sensitive sectors, although it limits immediate margin relief for banks.

Reuters

MPC Decision Unanimous

All six MPC members voted to maintain the policy rate. The unanimous decision indicates broad agreement that existing monetary conditions remain appropriate despite higher fuel-led headline inflation. Policy action will depend on whether inflation broadens beyond energy-related components.

Reuters

RBI Retains Neutral Policy Stance

The central bank maintained a neutral stance, preserving flexibility to respond in either direction. This avoids committing prematurely to tightening while oil markets and global geopolitical conditions remain volatile. The stance is moderately supportive for bonds and rate-sensitive domestic demand.

Reuters

FY27 Inflation Forecast Lowered to 5%

The RBI marginally lowered its FY27 headline inflation projection to 5%. The revision indicates that broader domestic price pressures remain relatively contained despite the energy shock. However, sustained crude-price increases could still affect transport costs, corporate margins and household inflation expectations.

Reuters

Core Inflation Projection Cut to 4.3%

The RBI reduced its core inflation estimate to 4.3%, suggesting that underlying demand-led inflation remains manageable. This provides room to retain the current policy rate unless fuel inflation becomes more broad-based. The development is favourable for consumption and long-duration assets.

Reuters

India Growth Forecast Raised to 6.7%

The RBI raised its economic growth forecast to 6.7%, citing resilient domestic demand and robust credit expansion. The revision reinforces India's relative growth advantage despite global geopolitical and commodity-market uncertainty. Domestic cyclical sectors should remain supported if credit and consumption momentum persists.

Reuters

Capital Inflows Strengthen Balance of Payments

Capital inflows exceeding $41 billion following the RBI's June measures are expected to support a healthy balance-of-payments surplus. Stronger external funding reduces immediate pressure on the rupee and foreign-exchange liquidity. The benefit may be partly offset by India's elevated oil-import requirements.

Reuters

Forex Reserves Rise to $692.9 Billion

India's foreign-exchange reserves increased to $692.9 billion as of 31 July, the highest level in nearly three months. The reserve position strengthens the RBI's ability to manage currency volatility and external funding shocks. It also provides a buffer against renewed crude-price increases.

Reuters

Reserves Record Largest Weekly Increase in Six Months

Foreign-exchange reserves increased by $10.5 billion during the latest reported week. The rise was the largest weekly addition in six months and reflects strong foreign-currency inflows. The development improves near-term currency-defence capacity.

Reuters

FCNR Deposit Programme Mobilises $36.7 Billion

The RBI's Foreign Currency Non-Resident deposit initiative mobilised $36.7 billion by 31 July. The programme has materially strengthened foreign-exchange liquidity and helped offset external pressures. Banks can swap the deposits with the RBI under the special hedging facility.

Reuters

India Maintains More Than Ten Months of Import Cover

The RBI indicated that reserves provide more than ten months of import cover. This represents a meaningful external buffer for an energy-importing economy facing geopolitical disruptions. Reserve adequacy reduces near-term sovereign and currency risk.

Reuters

Rupee Expected to Remain Range-Bound

A Reuters poll projects only limited rupee appreciation despite stronger foreign inflows. Strategists expect the currency near ₹95.25 per dollar over the next three months and at end-January 2027. Oil imports and the RBI's forward-dollar obligations are expected to restrict material appreciation.

Reuters

Rupee One-Year Projection at ₹95.95

The Reuters poll projects the rupee at approximately ₹95.95 per dollar over a one-year horizon. The forecast implies that foreign inflows may stabilise rather than structurally strengthen the currency. Exporters retain currency support, while import-dependent sectors remain exposed to elevated landed costs.

Reuters

Foreign Investors Turn Net Equity Buyers

Foreign investors became net buyers of Indian equities in July for the first time in five months. The reversal indicates improving international risk appetite towards India, supported by resilient earnings and external-sector measures. Sustained inflows would be supportive for large-cap liquidity and the rupee.

Reuters

Indian Equities Close Marginally Higher

The Nifty 50 increased 0.04% to 26,624.65, while the Sensex advanced 0.19% to 78,581. Gains following the RBI rate decision were restricted by higher crude prices and weakness in banking stocks. Market breadth was mixed, indicating selective rather than broad-based risk appetite.

Reuters

Small-Cap Index Reaches Record High

Indian small-cap stocks increased 0.8% to a record high, outperforming the benchmark indices. Domestic mutual-fund flows, earnings momentum and investor preference for broader-market opportunities supported the move. Elevated valuations increase sensitivity to earnings disappointments and liquidity reversals.

Reuters

Mid-Cap Index Advances

The mid-cap index increased 0.2% and remained close to record levels. Broader-market participation continues to exceed benchmark performance, supported by domestic institutional liquidity. Stock-specific earnings delivery remains important given elevated valuation dispersion.

Reuters

Banking Stocks Weaken After Policy Decision

The banking index declined approximately 0.3%, with HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank trading lower. Expectations that policy rates may remain unchanged through 2026 raised concerns regarding the pace of margin recovery. Stable rates are comparatively more supportive for NBFC funding conditions and loan demand.

Reuters

Brent Crude Rebounds Above $80

Brent crude increased 0.93% to $80.10 per barrel following reports of an attack on a Saudi oil tanker. The rebound reversed part of the preceding decline driven by expectations of Middle East de-escalation. Higher crude remains adverse for India's current account, inflation and import-intensive sectors.

Reuters

WTI Crude Moves Higher

US West Texas Intermediate crude increased to $75.93 per barrel. The smaller increase relative to Brent reflects differing regional supply conditions and geopolitical risk premia. Sustained gains would raise fuel and transportation cost pressures globally.

Reuters

Houthi Group Claims Attack on Saudi Tanker

Yemen's Houthi movement claimed an attack on a Saudi tanker near Yanbu in the Red Sea. The development renewed concerns over the security of regional energy transportation routes. Freight rates, insurance costs and physical crude availability could remain volatile.

Reuters

US Crude Inventories Increase

US crude inventories increased by 2.7 million barrels, indicating softer near-term inventory fundamentals. However, the inventory build was outweighed by geopolitical concerns during the session. Distillate stock movements remain relevant for refining margins and industrial demand indicators.

Reuters

China Eases Fuel Export Restrictions

China further eased restrictions on fuel exports for August. Higher Chinese exports could improve regional product availability and reduce refining-product tightness. The development is potentially negative for Asian refining margins if export volumes rise materially.

Reuters

Global Equities Supported by AI Earnings

Global equities advanced as strong technology earnings and continued AI-infrastructure investment supported investor sentiment. Expectations of progress in US-Iran discussions also reduced part of the geopolitical risk premium. High capital expenditure and stretched technology valuations remain key risk factors.

Reuters

Japan's Nikkei Rallies 3.7%

Japan's Nikkei increased 3.7%, supported by technology and AI-linked stocks. Currency developments and expectations of possible intervention to support the yen also influenced trading. The sharp move illustrates continued sensitivity of Asian markets to global technology positioning.

Reuters

South Korean Equities Gain 3.8%

South Korea's market advanced 3.8% as semiconductor and AI-related stocks recovered. The rally followed significant volatility in regional technology exposures. Future direction remains closely linked to global semiconductor demand and investor leverage.

Reuters

European STOXX 600 Advances

Europe's STOXX 600 increased approximately 0.3%, supported by earnings optimism and improved global risk sentiment. Investors continued to monitor Middle East diplomacy and energy-price movements. Lower oil and bond yields would be supportive for European consumption and rate-sensitive equities.

Reuters

US Treasury Yield Declines

The US ten-year Treasury yield declined to approximately 4.63%, supported by lower inflation concerns and demand for duration. Softer yields provided valuation support to global equities and precious metals. Policy uncertainty remains elevated following mixed signals from Federal Reserve officials.

Reuters

Gold Rises Above $4,199 per Ounce

Spot gold increased more than 3% to approximately $4,199.78 per ounce, its highest level since 22 June. A weaker dollar, lower Treasury yields and geopolitical uncertainty supported demand. The move benefits gold producers but raises working-capital and consumer-affordability considerations for jewellery companies.

Reuters

US Private Payroll Growth Misses Expectations

US private employers added 44,000 jobs in July, below the expected 70,000. The weaker reading indicates some moderation in labour demand, although it is insufficient alone to determine Federal Reserve policy. Softer employment growth is supportive for bonds but could raise concerns regarding consumption momentum.

Reuters

September Fed Rate-Hike Probability at 57%

Market pricing indicated an approximately 57% probability of a Federal Reserve rate increase in September. Expectations remain volatile because officials are balancing persistent inflation against signs of softer employment growth. Higher US rates would generally support the dollar and tighten global financial conditions.

Reuters

Silver Rallies Above $62 per Ounce

Silver increased 4.2% to approximately $62.05 per ounce, outperforming gold during the session. The move reflects both safe-haven demand and silver's industrial exposure. Higher prices may affect input costs for electronics, solar and jewellery value chains.

Reuters

Dollar Weakens Against Yen

The US dollar weakened against the yen amid indications of potential policy intervention and lower Treasury yields. Yen strength can influence global carry trades and reduce the competitiveness of Japanese exporters. Currency volatility remains an important transmission channel for Asian equity markets.

Reuters

US Swap Futures Show Higher-for-Longer Concerns

Investors increased positions in US swap futures to hedge against further increases in borrowing costs. The activity indicates concern that interest rates could remain elevated for longer than previously expected. Persistent high yields would affect equity valuations, refinancing costs and emerging-market capital flows.

Reuters

Asian Hedge Funds Face Technology-Led Drawdowns

Several Asian multi-strategy hedge funds experienced significant July drawdowns following sharp declines in AI-related stocks across Japan, South Korea and China. The losses highlight leverage and crowding risks within the regional technology trade. Further deleveraging could amplify volatility despite the latest market rebound.
