Gold extended gains as markets reassessed near-term risks after U.S. President Donald Trump said he agreed to suspend bombing and attacks on Iran for two weeks, easing immediate escalation fears. Trump said he has agreed to suspend bombing and attack for two weeks, and the United States had received a 10-point proposal from Iran that he described as a workable basis for negotiations. The comments came after Trump had earlier set a deadline for Iran to reopen the Strait of Hormuz or face possible U.S. retaliation. Higher inflation due to rising energy prices could complicate rate-cut decisions by central banks. An extended disruption of the world's oil trade could push U.S. inflation above 4% by year-end, with even bigger increases possible in the short term, according to research by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

ASIA GOLD – Indian dealers charge first gold premiums in two months - Gold traded at a premium in India for the first time in two months, as softer prices boosted demand for the metal, while premiums in China ticked down slightly as buyers awaited a deeper correction. Dealers quoted discounts of up to $8 an ounce and premiums of $2 an ounce over official domestic prices, compared with discounts of up to $61 last week. In top consumer China, bullion traded at premiums of $12-$17 an ounce over the global benchmark price this week, slightly down from $14-$18 last week. In Hong Kong, physical gold traded at par to premiums of $1.80, while in Japan, gold was sold at par with spot prices. In Singapore, gold was sold at prices ranging from a $0.25 discount to a $1.80 premium per ounce.

Swiss gold exports drop 18% m/m in February - Gold exports from Switzerland in February fell 18% from the previous month to the lowest level since August as shipments to Britain and India slowed, Swiss customs data showed. Deliveries from Switzerland, the world's biggest bullion refining and transit hub, to the UK fell to 20 metric tons last month from 43 tons in January. The UK is home to the world's largest over-the-counter gold trading hub. Supplies to India, a major bullion consumer, slowed to 13 tons in February from 23 tons with bullion trading at a discount in the local market amid subdued demand.

China's January net gold imports via Hong Kong rose almost 69% from December - China's net gold imports via Hong Kong in January rose by 68.7% from December, Hong Kong Census and Statistics Department data. The world's top gold consumer imported a net 20.585 metric tons in January, up from 12.205 tons in December, the data showed. The Hong Kong data may not provide a complete picture of Chinese purchases because gold is also imported via Shanghai and Beijing. China's total gold imports via Hong Kong reached 36.544 tons in January, up 30.4% from December's 28.014 tons. Physical gold in China traded at premiums of $12-$13 an ounce above the global benchmark spot price this week as bullion's safe-haven appeal shone through after markets returned from the Lunar New Year holiday. Meanwhile, China's central bank extended its gold buying spree for a 15th month in January, data from the People's Bank of China (PBOC) showed this month.

Goldman Sachs sees gold prices to grind higher to $5,400/toz by end – 2026 - Goldman Sachs Group Inc. raised its year-end gold price forecast by more than 10%, reflecting growing private-sector diversification into bullion on top of already-strong demand from central banks and exchange-traded funds. The bank raised its December 2026 price target to $5,400 an ounce, from a prior forecast of $4,900, on the assumption that private investors who have bought gold as a hedge against macro policy risks will maintain these positions through the end of the year. Central-bank buying is expected to average 60 tons a month in 2026, with monetary authorities in emerging markets "likely to continue the structural diversification of their reserves into gold. Western ETF holdings, meanwhile, have increased by around 500 tons since the start of 2025, outpacing predictions based solely on US interest-rate cuts. Goldman expects a further 50 basis points of Fed easing in 2026.
