

EVENING ROUNDUP

Daily Evening Report on Bullion, Base Metals and Energy Commodities

Wednesday, September 10, 2025

- Gold spot prices traded firm after marking a new record of USD3673 a troy ounce in the previous session, as disappointing US job number that heightened expectations of a potential interest rate cut by the Federal Reserve. At the same time, silver spot prices remained near their highest level in fourteen years, hovering firmly near USD41.20 a troy ounce.
- US nonfarm payrolls increased by just 22,000 in August 2025, a sharp drop from the upwardly revised 79,000 gain in July. Meanwhile, the unemployment rate held at 4.3%, highlighting a slowdown in the labor market.
- In Indian markets, the depreciation in domestic currency INR further amplified the rally in precious metals. Rupee is now traded around 88 marks against USD, near all time low.
- OPEC+ decided to increase crude oil production by 137,000 barrels per day starting in October, much lower than the monthly increase of about 555,000 bpd for September, as Saudi Arabia aims to reclaim market share amid expectations of weakening global demand.
- OPEC+ has started rolling back a second round of production cuts totaling 1.65 million barrels per day by eight member countries, well ahead of schedule. This follows the complete reversal of a previous 2.5 million bpd cut since April, roughly 2.4% of global oil demand, marking a steady increase in output since that time.
- Crude oil prices extended recovery moves as OPEC+'s output hike for October was viewed as modest amid renewed tensions in middle east and worries over potential new sanctions on Russian crude added to supply concerns.
- China's imports of liquefied natural gas (LNG) rose for a fourth straight month in August. The world's biggest buyer of the super-chilled fuel is on track to see imports of 6.04 million metric tonnes in August.
- Russian energy giant Gazprom's average daily natural gas supplies to Europe via the TurkStream undersea pipeline decreased by 2% MoM in August.
- China's copper concentrate imports increased for the second straight month in August, driven by a surge in shipments from a key Indonesian mine ahead of its export license expiry later this month. Imports rose by 8%, reaching 2.76 million metric tonnes, up from 2.56 million in July.
