

SBI Life reported a broadly in-line 9MFY24 performance , with APE coming ~2% above our estimates, while VNB margin logging at 28.1%, lower by ~0.4ppts, leading to 9M VNB of Rs40.4bn (in line with our estimate). Overall, the 9M VNB margin of 28.1% and VNB growth of 11% YoY are best-in-class among peers and are a testimony to Company’s strength in brand and distribution, coupled with its cost leadership. Despite the increase in share of ULIPs in the APE products mix (+4.7ppts YoY in 9M), the company contained the VNB margin compression to 1.5ppts. Management expects SBI Life to clock robust growth in the medium term, growing above the industry rate, and VNB margins to track at around 28% for FY24, depending on the product mix. Baking-in the Q3FY24 developments, we tweak our FY24-26 estimates which results in a ~1% cut in VNB. We reiterate our BUY rating on the stock, with unchanged Dec-24E TP of Rs1,750/share (implying a FY25 P/EV of 2.7x).

Satisfactory performance; best in class VNB margin and VNB growth

SBI posted a robust 17.4% APE growth during 9MFY24 to Rs143.9bn (Emkay: Rs140.8bn), driven by 27% YoY growth in the ULIP business against the backdrop of strong equity market movement. The company logged VNB margin of 28.1% for 9MFY24 (9MFY23: 29.6%), led by 27.4% VNB margin for Q3FY24 vs. our estimate of 27.8%. The YoY dip in margin was driven by higher share of ULIPs which was offset by repricing in several non-par products. SBI Life’s PAT for 9MFY24 grew 14.8% YoY to Rs10.8bn – a 2.7% miss on our estimate; but Q3FY24 PAT came in at Rs3.2bn vs. our estimate of Rs3.5bn. The company witnessed slight elevation in commissions owing to higher sales of long-term plans vs. short-term plans in the non-par segment. Persistency improved across cohorts, whereas the surrender ratio saw some elevation on account of higher discontinuation in certain cohorts of ULIPs with no surrender charges.

Strong execution and brand value continue to drive the robust performance

SBI Life has delivered a consistent performance, in terms of robust APE growth and sustained margin delivery (with relatively limited volatility), despite the regulatory shocks and changing customer demand. While the share of ULIPs in the APE product mix increased to 61% in 9M (+4.7ppts YoY), the management is focused on growing the non-par and protection business. In the group protection segment, Group Term Life witnessed faster growth, while the company plans to launch several online products, with aim to grow the retail protection business. Given a strong brand, widespread distribution network, and low-cost advantage, SBI Life is on the right track to register better-than-industry growth and superior VNB margin. Management has guided to 18% APE growth during FY24, and VNB margin to stand out, at around 28%.

We reiterate BUY, with unchanged TP of Rs1,750/share

Accounting for the Q3FY24 developments, we tweak our FY24-26 estimates that results in 1-1.5% increase in APE estimates and a 0.5-0.7ppts cut in VNB margin, leading to ~1% cut in VNB estimates. We reiterate our BUY rating on the stock, with unchanged Dec-24E TP of Rs1,750/share (implying FY25E P/EV of 2.7x). SBI Life’s superb execution by leveraging on its brand, distribution and cost advantage to sell products that meet customer & channel demand make it our preferred pick in the sector, where it is strongly positioned to respond to any changing regulations or customer preference.

Earnings Conference Call Highlights

- SBI Life aims to provide comprehensive insurance products to fulfill customer's unique needs through personalized solutions.
- The company launched 2 new 'Return of Premium Term' (ROP) products offering higher sum assured at affordable prices. Management believes margins for the particular products would remain in the same range as those of the existing products.
- The shift in VNB margins is largely on account of increase in share of ULIPs.
- Agency channel grew 15% during 9MFY24. Agency continues to be a focus area. The management expects agency performance to improve in Q4FY24.
- Around 39% of the business is from Rural and Semi-Urban areas. SBI has many branches in these areas and, hence, the management does not see competitive intensity rising, with other private players tapping tier 2/3 markets. Management remains focused on increasing the agent-count and active branches of SBI.
- Management does not have any concern with respect to the proposed draft for product regulation regarding the change in surrender value. Management expects the regulator to take a balanced view, keeping in mind the persistency of products.
- Management expects Individual Protection to grow well in the fourth quarter. The group term insurance product is growing at a faster pace, leading growth in the group protection segment.
- There has been no significant change in the commission structure in the agency channel.
- The objective is to offer a long-term sustainable rate to the policyholder and maintain the margin. Non-par share in the APE product mix is lower than peers' and, hence, the change in surrender value should not affect SBI Life much.
- SBI Life is working on launching some products in the Non-Par savings products vertical.
- Management said that the company is not looking to increase the commission structure in the near future, as the existing commission structure is showcasing good growth for the company.
- There is a shift in Non-Par products, from short-term to long-term plans, thus resulting in increased commission ratios for the first year.
- Penetration in the Banca channel is less than 2% and, so, there is a huge growth opportunity which will also result in increased productivity per branch.
- There has been some margin enhancement in certain products.
- Management reiterated its guidance for around 28% margin in FY24.
- Total new business in the life insurance industry is a fraction of that of total deposits; hence, the management does not see any risk on growth in life insurance premiums.
- SBI Life has the lowest number of miss-selling complaints. With the opportunity available in the banca channel, the growth rate will endure. There has been no major change in growth trends in the agency/banca channels during Jan-24.
- Management expects SBI Life to end the financial year with an APE growth in the 17-18% range.
- There is no change in the cost structure of the business. There has been some increase in costs on account of infrastructure, digital adoption, and increase in employee headcount.
- Company focus is on the product mix. Q3FY24 saw good traction in ULIPs and the Non-Par segment. Management will continue to focus on non-par savings products as well as protection products in the mid-term.
