Market Outlook

The Indian market witnessed a volatile trading session, where the benchmark NIFTY50 index remained under selling pressure for most of the day and maintained the sell-on-rise bias. However, a recovery during the final trading hour helped the index pare losses and settle with a marginal gain. From a technical perspective, sustained trading below the 23,500-23,600 zone would keep the bearish bias intact and may extend the decline towards the 23,300–23,100 zone in the coming sessions. On the derivatives front, fresh call writing witnessed at the 23,500 and 23,600 strikes, along with notable put unwinding, indicates a continued shift in the upside hurdle.

BAJAJ AUTO PUT SPREAD

BUY 29 SEP 11800 PUT
SELL 29 SEP 11500 PUT

|             |          |
|-------------|----------|
| Entry Range | 100 -110 |
| Target      | 230      |
| Stop Loss   | 40       |

Rationale

- BAJAJ-AUTO has witnessed stiff resistance near the 11,800-11,900 zone. Recent candles indicate hesitation and profit booking around this hurdle, keeping the near-term bias cautious to bearish.
- The stock is currently trading below the 20-DEMA zone, and a sustained trade below this short-term moving average could reinforce selling pressure. The 50-day EMA near the 11,400 zone remains the next major downside support.
- Momentum indicators are also losing strength, with the 14-day RSI hovering near the 50 mark and MACD showing a bearish crossover with a negative histogram, indicating weakening buying momentum and a possible continuation of consolidation with a negative bias.
- A decisive break of the 50-DEMA zone could trigger further weakness towards 11,000–10,800. On the upside, the bearish view would weaken only above the 12,000 zone, which remains the key resistance zone.
