Key Highlights

- India's GDP growth accelerated to 7.8% in 1QFY26.
- GST 2.0 reforms poised to boost consumption.
- Dovish Fed commentary signalling possible rate cut in Sep'25.

Equity markets ended lower in Aug'25, weighed down by uncertainty around US tariffs on India and persistent FII outflows. Nifty slid 1.4% in Aug'25, to close at 24,427. Broader markets significantly underperformed with Nifty Midcap100 and Smallcap100 declining by 2.9% and 4.1% respectively. Further FIIs were net sellers, with outflows of ₹46,903 crore in August'25, while DII inflows remained robust at ₹94,829 crore.

On the macro front, India's real GDP growth accelerated to 7.8% YoY in 1QFY26 (highest in last five quarters), up from 6.5% in 1QFY25, showing strong domestic resilience amidst global turmoil. Also, India's retail inflation declined to an 8-year low of 1.55% in July (vs 2.10% in Jun'25).

In another positive development, S&P upgraded India's sovereign credit rating to BBB from BBB- with a stable outlook after nearly 19 years, citing robust economic growth, fiscal consolidation efforts, and a conducive monetary policy stance.

The GST Council has rolled out the GST 2.0 reforms, rationalising the current four-tier rate structure (5%/12%/18%/28% + cess) into a simpler two-tier structure (5%/18%) with a 40% demerit rate for sin/luxury goods. Effective from 22nd Sep'25, the reforms aim to simplify compliance, improve ease of doing business, and pass benefits to consumers.

On the trade front, the US has imposed an additional 25% secondary tariff on Indian goods effective August 27, 2025, raising the overall tariff burden to 50%. This sharp hike has dampened market sentiment and heightened concerns around India's export competitiveness. The move poses near-term headwinds for export-driven sectors such as IT, Pharma, Automobiles, and Textiles, until a trade agreement with the US is finalized.

Indian markets have been subdued due to weak earnings and macro/geopolitical headwinds. However, we believe that the influence of the US tariffs on Indian markets could be limited. At 22x FY26 P/E (vs 10Y avg. 20.7x), Nifty valuations look reasonable with scope for expansion, backed by our 10% PAT growth forecast for FY26.

On sectoral front, we are positive on domestic themes given the economy-wide benefits due to announcement of GST 2.0 and hence like Auto, Consumer Durables, Consumer Staples, Cement, Hotels, Insurance, Retail. Incrementally, we are turning positive towards mid-caps owing to improved earnings and higher growth prospects.

Technical & Derivatives Outlook

- Nifty index remained volatile throughout August as selling pressure was visible from 25000 zones while strong support-based buying emerged near 24350 levels. The index broadly traded within a range of 700 points between 24350 to 25000 witnessing sharp swings on both sides during the month. On the sectoral front, continuous buying interest was observed in Auto and Auto Ancillaries, new age companies and selective Consumption stocks while Pharma, PSE, Energy, Metals, Banks, Infra and Defense sectors showed notable weakness.
- Technically, Nifty formed a bearish candle with a longer upper shadow on the monthly chart, highlighting sustained pressure at higher levels. The repeated defense of 24442 support zone indicated demand is emerging at lower levels, keeping the overall undertone positive with bouts of volatility. For September series, positional supports are seen at 24350 and then 24000 zones, while a decisive hold above 25000 could open the gates for the next leg of the rally towards 25350 and 25500 levels.

Derivative Strategy

NIFTY

BULL CALL BUTTERFLY:
September Series

- Nifty index has witnessed volatile moves over the past month but is holding well above its key support zones, with bulls managing to defend lower levels.
- On the weekly scale, the index is trading in a range of 24350 to 25000 for the past few weeks and is likely to continue within this band.
- Maximum Call Open Interest is concentrated at the 25000 and 24500 strikes, while Put Open Interest is visible at the 24000 and 24500 strikes.
- Considering this setup, a Bull Call Butterfly Spread is suggested as a suitable strategy to capture the upside within the range-bound move, especially with an expected decline in volatility going forward.

Bank Nifty

IRON BUTTERFLY :
September Series

- Bank Nifty has seen decent correction of more than 2000 points in last few sessions and gave range break down on weekly scale below 55000 zones.
- However rate sensitive Index is near to its previous all time high zones which may provide some support at lower levels.
- Maximum Put OI is intact at 53000 levels while Maximum Call OI is at 55500 strike.
- Thus suggesting Iron Butterfly Option Spread to play the benefit of time decay and Index likely to oscillate within this wider range in between 53000 to 55500 zones.
