Gold prices climbed after U.S. President Donald Trump announced new tariffs on auto imports starting next week, escalating global trade tensions that have been driving safe-haven demand for gold. Trump unveiled a 25% tariff on imported cars and light trucks, set to come into effect the day after he plans to announce reciprocal tariffs aimed at the countries responsible for the bulk of the U.S. trade deficit.

Asia Gold – India gold discounts hit 8 – month high as record prices curb demand - Discounts offered on gold in India touched a more than eight-month high as demand slumped after spot prices surged past record highs. Indian dealers offered a discount of up to $41 an ounce over official domestic prices, up from up to $39 an ounce last week. India's gold imports are set to tumble 85% in February from a year-ago to their lowest in 20 years. In China, gold traded at a discount of $2-$16 under spot prices. In Singapore, gold traded at a premium of $1.80-$2.50. Meanwhile, dealers in Hong Kong charged premiums between $0.50 and $2 per ounce. In Japan, bullion prices were sold between a premium of $1.0 and a discount of $5.5.

Swiss February gold exports up on year ago, but off January high - Gold exports from Switzerland leapt by more than a quarter year on year in February as a big rise in supplies to the United States continued, albeit at a lower rate than in January, Swiss customs data showed. The U.S. demand offset lower deliveries to India and no supplies to China at all. Concerns that U.S. gold imports could be affected as President Donald Trump rolls out wide-reaching tariffs widened the price premium of U.S. gold futures over London spot prices in December-February, attracting massive deliveries to Comex gold inventories in New York. The inflow to Comex stocks has slowed down in recent weeks as the premium between U.S. futures and London spot prices normalised. According to the Swiss data, gold exports to the U.S. fell to 147.4 metric tons in February from 192.9 tons in January. January's exports to the U.S. were the highest for any month in data going back to 2012. Supplies of bullion to China from Switzerland dried up completely in February, for the first time since August, the data showed, while deliveries to India continued to fall.

Gold demand up 1% in 2024, to remain supported by economic uncertainty, World Gold Council says - Global gold demand including over-the-counter (OTC) trading rose by 1% to a record high of 4,974.5 metric tons in 2024 as investment increased, the World Gold Council (WGC) said, adding that central banks sped up buying in the fourth quarter. Central banks, a major source of gold demand, bought more than 1,000 tons of the metal for the third year in a row in 2024. The National Bank of Poland was the largest such buyer, adding 90 tons to its reserves, the WGC, an industry body whose members are global gold miners, said in a quarterly report. In the final quarter of 2024, when Trump won the U.S. election, buying by central banks accelerated by 54% year on year to 333 tons, the WGC calculated, based on reported purchases and an estimate of unreported buying. Last year's investment demand for gold rose 25% to a four-year high of 1,180 tons, mainly because outflows from physically-backed gold exchange-traded funds (ETFs) dried up for the first time in four years.

China's 2024 gold consumption slumps 9.58% y/y as high prices cut demand - China's gold consumption in 2024 slumped 9.58% on the year to 985.31 metric tons, data from the China Gold Association showed, as high gold prices curtailed jewellery demand. Gold jewellery buying, which accounts for half of the total, plunged 24.7% to 532.02 tons, according to the data. Meanwhile, purchases of gold bars and coins, which typically reflect safe-haven demand, jumped 24.5% over the year to 373.13 tons, the association said. In 2024, China's gold output from domestically produced raw materials climbed by 0.56% to 377.24 tons, association data showed. Output of gold from imported raw materials increased 8.83% for the year to 156.86 tons, bringing China's total gold output last year to 534.11 tons, an annual increase of 2.85%.
