- Open interest goes up when both the buyer and the seller are opening a new position
- Open interest remains the same when one party is opening a new position and the other is liquidating an existing position
- Open interest falls when both the buyer and the seller are liquidating existing positions
- Long build up: Prices increase with a rise in open interest and is considered bullish
- Long liquidation: Existing longs liquidate their positions and open interest also falls; moderately bearish
- Short build up: Prices drop with a rise in open interest, and this is considered bearish
- Short covering: Existing shorts cover their positions, and open interest drop; this is moderately bullish
- PCR goes up when 1) both put and call open interest go up, but puts rise faster, or 2) both put and call open interest go down, but calls fall faster or, 3) when puts go up and calls go down
- Generally, a rising PCR is bearish, but when it reaches an extremely high reading, it means people are likely to take contrarian bets, i.e., they are likely to turn bullish
- PCR goes down when 1) both put and call open interest go up, but calls rise faster, or 2) both put and call open interest go down, but puts fall faster or, 3) when puts go down and calls go up
- Typically, a falling PCR is bullish, but when it reaches an extremely low reading, it means people are likely to take contrarian bets, i.e., they are likely to turn bearish

ATM IV is the midpoint of the IV for the ATM call and put respectively*

- Volume: Number of contracts traded for the day. If A bought 10 calls & B sold 10 calls, the volume for the day is 10 contracts
- Open Interest: The number of derivatives contracts that are open (have not been closed out). If A bought 10 calls, B bought another 10 calls and C sold 20 calls, then the open interest for the day is 20 contracts
- Total open interest: Total of all open positions for all available expirations. It is the sum of all outstanding long positions OR short positions. This is because the total number of long positions must equal the total number of short positions
- Premium: When the front-month futures are more expensive than the cash market price. For instance, if Nifty futures (first month contract) are at 25,500 when the cash Nifty is at 25,450, the premium is 50 points
- Discount: When the front-month futures are cheaper than the cash market price. For instance, if Tata Steel futures (first month contract) are at 160 when the stock is trading at 162 in the cash market, the discount is 2 points
- At-the-Money (ATM): When the strike price of an option is the same as the spot price, the option is called an ATM option
- Implied Volatility (IV): Measure of how much a stock is expected to move in the future (in either direction)
- Put-Call Ratio (PCR): Ratio of total number of outstanding puts to total number of calls outstanding. If this ratio is more (less) than one, it means more puts (calls) are open relative to calls (puts)
- Derivatives market participants: Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs), Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs), proprietary traders and Retail investors
- Derivatives Instruments: Index options, index futures, stock options, stock futures
- Expirations covered: Index options (weekly, monthly), stock options, stock futures and index futures (monthly)
- For pages 7 to 11, “Last px” refers to the closing price of the cash market ticker
- Source(s): www.nseindia.com, Bloomberg, MyFnO

- Strike concentration: Visual representation of how many calls and puts are outstanding at each strike in the vicinity of the current underlying price. The strike with the highest call open interest is considered as resistance, while the put strike with the highest number of outstanding positions is considered as support
- Shifting concentration: Strikes with highest call and put concentration are dynamic in nature and keep changing as per movements in the markets
- Implied Volatility Rank (IVR): Measure of how expensive or cheap the IV of an ATM option is, relative to its 12-month history. The reading oscillates between 0 and 100

Assume the wavy line is IV over the last one year. Notice that today's IV is close to the highest high seen in the last one year. This means that IV for this option is expensive compared to where it's been in the last 12 months.

In this chart, notice that today's IV is close to the lowest low seen in the last 12 months. This means that IV for this option is cheap today compared to where it has traded over the last one year.

- Implied Volatility Percentile (IVP): Measures the number of days IV has been below the current IV in the last 252 trading days. The reading moves between 0 and 100.

In the chart to the left, one can see that the bulk of the time the IV has been below its current level. In this case, the IVP will be close to 100. An IVP of 100 means that 100% of the time IV has been below its current reading in the last one year.

Notice that IV has mostly traded at the high end of its one-year range, and there have been very few values below the current IV. In such a scenario, the IVP is going to be close to 0. An IVP of say, 5, means that IV has been below the current IV only 5% of the time in the last 252 trading sessions.
