Gold prices dropped as investors awaited more US economic data for clearer signals on the Federal Reserve's policy outlook. Attention will mainly be on September's retail sales and PPI figures due on Tuesday, along with weekly jobless claims on Wednesday. Expectations for a December rate cut have shifted after Fed President John Williams signaled support for another reduction in the near term. Markets are now pricing in a 69% probability of a 25bps cut next month, compared to around 40% last week following strong jobs data.

Price volatility saps bullion demand in top Asian hubs - Physical gold demand across major Asian markets remained weak, as volatility in rates deterred potential buyers from making purchases. Indian dealers were offering a discount of up to $21 per ounce compared with official domestic prices, down from a discount of up to $43 last week, which was the highest in five months. Weddings are a major driver of gold purchases in India, with bullion in the form of jewellery forming a crucial part of a bride's attire and a popular gift from family and guests. In top consumer China, bullion traded at prices ranging from at par to a discount of $5 an ounce compared with the global benchmark spot price. Swiss gold exports in October fell about 11% from the previous month, customs data showed, as elevated prices squeezed Chinese demand. In Singapore, gold traded between a $1.50 and $2.50 premium this week. Gold in Hong Kong was sold at par to a premium of $1.80. In Japan, bullion was sold at par to a premium of $0.50 per ounce over spot prices.

Gold exports from Switzerland to China soared in August - Gold exports from Switzerland to China jumped 254% in August compared with July to their highest level since May 2024 and supplies to India rose, partly offsetting a slump in deliveries to the United States, Swiss customs data showed. The Swiss data showed that gold exports to China rose in August to 35 metric tons from 9.9 tons in July, while supplies to India, another major bullion consumer along with China, climbed to 15.2 tons from 13.5 tons. China's wholesale gold demand fell last month as investors directed their attention to equities, but imports to the country are supported by expectations that the wholesale demand would rise towards the end of September, Ray Jia, head of China research at the World Gold Council, said in a note. Gold exports from Switzerland, the world's biggest bullion refining and transit hub, to the U.S. fell to 295 kg in August from 51.0 tons in July as some refineries paused shipments to the U.S. amid uncertainty about the country's import tariffs.

China's central bank buys gold in August for 10th month in a row - China's central bank added gold to its reserves in August, extending purchases of bullion into a 10th straight month, official data showed. China's gold reserves stood at 74.02 million fine troy ounces at the end of August, up from 73.96 million at the end of July. They were valued at $253.84 billion, up from $243.99 billion at the end of the previous month, according to data released by the central bank. Demand for physical gold in the world's largest producer, which is also a top consumer of the metal, was weak, due to high prices, with dealers offering discounts over the global benchmark to attract buyers.

The US has slapped tariffs on imports of one-kilo gold bars, in a move that threatens to upend the global bullion market and deal a fresh blow to Switzerland, the world's largest refining hub. The Customs Border Protection agency said one-kilo and 100-ounce gold bars should be classified under a customs code subject to levies, according to a so-called ruling letter dated July 31, which was seen by the Financial Times. Ruling letters are used by the US to clarify its trade policy. One-kilo bars are the most common form traded on Comex, the world's largest gold futures market, and comprise the bulk of Switzerland's bullion exports to the US. Switzerland exported $61.5bn of gold to the US over the 12 months ending in June. That same volume would now be subject to an additional $24bn in tariffs under Switzerland's 39 per cent tariff rate, which went into effect on Thursday.
