Gold dropped as investors waited for a series of U.S. economic data this week that could shed more light on the Federal Reserve's interest rate path, and fuelled by diminishing odds that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) will lower interest rates next month. Markets are currently pricing in a 46% probability of such a move, the CME Group's FedWatch Tool shows, down from about 67% seen a week ago. Amid elevated inflation and weak private sector employment data from the United States (US), Fed officials struck a cautious tone, pushing back against expectations of further easing in December, still weighing the impact of the recent two rate cuts.

Price rise dulls activity in top hubs; India discounts hit 5 – month high - Physical gold demand across major Asian markets was subdued this week as elevated prices curtailed buying activity, with discounts in India reaching their highest level in five months. Indian dealers' discounts were up to $43 per ounce over official domestic prices, up from the last week's discount of up to $14. The India Bullion and Jewellers Association (IBJA) has asked the government to close a policy loophole that allowed import-duty-free platinum-alloy jewellery that contained about 90% gold. In top consumer China, bullion traded anywhere from a discount of $8 to a $4 premium an ounce over the global benchmark spot price. In Singapore, gold traded between a $1.50 and $3.50 premium this week. Gold in Hong Kong was sold at premiums ranging between $0.50 and $2.50. In Japan, bullion was sold at par to a premium of $0.50 per ounce over spot prices.

Gold exports from Switzerland to China soared in August - Gold exports from Switzerland to China jumped 254% in August compared with July to their highest level since May 2024 and supplies to India rose, partly offsetting a slump in deliveries to the United States, Swiss customs data showed. The Swiss data showed that gold exports to China rose in August to 35 metric tons from 9.9 tons in July, while supplies to India, another major bullion consumer along with China, climbed to 15.2 tons from 13.5 tons. China's wholesale gold demand fell last month as investors directed their attention to equities, but imports to the country are supported by expectations that the wholesale demand would rise towards the end of September, Ray Jia, head of China research at the World Gold Council, said in a note. Gold exports from Switzerland, the world's biggest bullion refining and transit hub, to the U.S. fell to 295 kg in August from 51.0 tons in July as some refineries paused shipments to the U.S. amid uncertainty about the country's import tariffs.

China's central bank buys gold in August for 10th month in a row - China's central bank added gold to its reserves in August, extending purchases of bullion into a 10th straight month, official data showed. China's gold reserves stood at 74.02 million fine troy ounces at the end of August, up from 73.96 million at the end of July. They were valued at $253.84 billion, up from $243.99 billion at the end of the previous month, according to data released by the central bank. Demand for physical gold in the world's largest producer, which is also a top consumer of the metal, was weak, due to high prices, with dealers offering discounts over the global benchmark to attract buyers.

The US has slapped tariffs on imports of one-kilo gold bars, in a move that threatens to upend the global bullion market and deal a fresh blow to Switzerland, the world's largest refining hub. The Customs Border Protection agency said one-kilo and 100-ounce gold bars should be classified under a customs code subject to levies, according to a so-called ruling letter dated July 31, which was seen by the Financial Times. Ruling letters are used by the US to clarify its trade policy. One-kilo bars are the most common form traded on Comex, the world's largest gold futures market, and comprise the bulk of Switzerland's bullion exports to the US. Switzerland exported $61.5bn of gold to the US over the 12 months ending in June. That same volume would now be subject to an additional $24bn in tariffs under Switzerland's 39 per cent tariff rate, which went into effect on Thursday.
