Gold fell pressured by elevated U.S. Treasury yields, while markets awaited key U.S. labour market data for fresh signals on the Federal Reserve's monetary policy outlook. U.S. Treasury yields rose to their highest since January 2025 as rising tensions in the Middle East stoked inflation worries, and triggered a global bond selloff. Fed Chair Kevin Warsh said at the Jackson Hole symposium that the U.S. central bank would "have work to do" if policymakers were not confident inflation was returning to its 2% target. Meanwhile, U.S. President Donald Trump told reporters in the Oval Office that Warsh will "do what he has to do" on interest rates. On the geopolitical front, Trump threatened further strikes against Iran on Monday after the first exchange of direct attacks in a month, raising tensions in a conflict that had recently shifted into an economic standoff. Traders are currently pricing in a 66% chance of an interest rate hike later this month, the CME FedWatch Tool showed. Investors now turn their focus to the ADP employment report due on Wednesday and the nonfarm payrolls data on Friday for further economic policy clues.

India gold discounts plunge as import duty cut rumours hurt demand - Gold discounts in India plunged, falling to their deepest level in three months, as demand fell sharply amid market speculation that the government could consider rolling back a recent hike in import duties. In May, India raised import duties on gold and silver to 15% from 6%. Traders have speculated that smuggling has increased since the duty hike and that the government could restore the previous duty structure to curb it. Dealers quoted a discount of up to $135 an ounce over official domestic prices, compared to last week's $65 discount. In China, bullion traded at discounts of $2 to $5 an ounce to the global benchmark spot price, compared with prices on par with the benchmark to a $6 premium last week. In Singapore, gold was sold between a $1 discount and a premium of up to $2.50 this week, while in Hong Kong it traded from a $1 discount to a $1.5 premium. In Japan gold was sold between a $0.50 discount and a $1 premium.

Gold demand steady in second quarter as central bank buying offsets ETF outflows - Global gold demand was steady year-on-year at 1,268.9 metric tons in the second quarter of 2026 as central banks sped up purchases, offsetting a slump in investment, the World Gold Council said. Outflows from gold-backed exchange-traded funds totalled 45 tons in the second quarter, when bullion posted its sharpest quarterly decline since 2013, falling 14%. Led by Poland and China, central bank net gold demand picked up significantly in the second quarter, reaching 289 tons – a fivefold increase from the first quarter's revised estimate of 57 tons, the WGC said. It estimated January to March demand from central banks at 244 tons three months ago, but then Turkey, Russia and Azerbaijan's Sofaz reported detailed data about their sales for the period.

Swiss gold exports drop 2% in July as deliveries to China fall - Swiss gold exports fell 2% in July from the previous month as lower shipments to China and Hong Kong offset higher deliveries to Britain and India, Swiss customs data showed. Supplies to China, a key bullion consumer, fell 22% month on month to 21.8 metric tons in July, while deliveries to Hong Kong slumped to 1.4 tons from 8.1 tons in June, the data showed. China's central bank purchased 19.9 metric tons of gold in July, its biggest monthly addition since October 2023, supporting overall demand sentiment in the country. Bullion has traded at a small premium to London prices in China for six straight weeks. GOL/AS Deliveries to the UK from Switzerland, the world's biggest bullion refining and transit hub, jumped 44% to 39.5 metric tons last month. Britain is home to the world's largest over-the-counter gold trading hub.

China's June net gold imports via Hong Kong up from year ago, down from May - China's net gold imports via Hong Kong more than doubled year-on-year in June, but slipped over 5% from the previous month, data from Hong Kong's Census and Statistics Department showed. The world's top gold consumer imported a net 50.679 metric tons of gold via Hong Kong in June, compared with 53.674 tons in May and 19.366 tons in June 2025, the data showed. China's total gold imports via Hong Kong stood at 78.147 tons in June, up 19% from May's 65.562 tons. China's central bank reported its biggest monthly increase in gold reserves in more than 2-1/2 years in June, official data showed. Reserves hit 75.44 million fine troy ounces by the end of June, versus 74.96 million a month earlier.
