| Key Highlights

- Nifty gains in June; Smallcaps outperform while Midcaps consolidate
- Markets shift from macro to earnings-driven cues
- Key monitorables: Q1FY27 results, monsoon, West Asia developments

Indian equities ended Jun'26 on a positive note, with Nifty50 gaining 1.4% MoM, supported by easing geopolitical concerns and a sharp correction in crude oil prices. Broader markets outperformed, with the Nifty Smallcap 100 advancing 3.9%, while Nifty Midcap 100 remained largely flat (+0.1%) after touching record highs in the previous month. Market has gradually shifted from macro-driven risk sentiment to stock and earnings-specific opportunities.

Global sentiment improved in June following diplomatic progress in West Asia. Although volatility persists due to intermittent tensions, the ceasefire between the US and Iran significantly reduced concerns around supply chain disruptions leading to sharp correction in crude oil prices. This eased concerns around India's imported inflation, current account deficit and fiscal pressures.

The monsoon remains a key monitorable. Following a nearly 40% rainfall deficit in June, the IMD has forecast July rainfall at 94% of Long Period Average, while continuing to flag El Niño as a key risk to agricultural output and food inflation during the second half of FY27.

The 1QFY27 earnings season is expected to mark the beginning of an earnings recovery. We expect Nifty50 PAT to grow ~10% YoY, the strongest earnings growth in the last four quarters. The broader MOFSL Universe (370 companies) excluding OMCs, is expected to deliver ~14% YoY earnings growth, reflecting resilient domestic demand and improving underlying earnings momentum.

Financials are expected to remain the key earnings driver, led by NBFC Lending (+27% YoY), Private Banks (+10% YoY) and PSU Banks (+10% YoY). Metals (+31% YoY) should also report robust earnings, while Oil & Gas (-95% YoY) is likely to remain the weakest sector due to losses in OMCs. Cement (-13% YoY) due to margin pressure.

The prolonged consolidation has resulted in a meaningful moderation in valuations. The Nifty50 now trades at around 18.8x one-year forward P/E, ~11% below its 10-year of 21x, while several heavyweight sectors continue to trade below historical averages. This provides a favourable medium-term risk-reward despite elevated global uncertainties.

We continue to favour a bottom-up investment approach, with preference for domestic growth themes including Manufacturing (Capital Goods, Defence, Power and Renewables), Financials, healthcare, select consumption-oriented businesses and New-age companies.

Technical & Derivatives Outlook

- Nifty index started June on a positive note but witnessed selling pressure in the first week, slipping towards 23000 marks. It later recovered steadily over the following weeks and tried to reclaim the psychological 24K zones. In the tug of war between the bulls and bears, the index managed to find strong support based buying while multiple hurdles were seen intact near 24000-24250 zones. Slight profit booking was seen in the final week but the index managed to close near 23900 highlighting buy on decline at crucial support zones.
- Technically, Nifty formed a small bodied bullish candle on the monthly chart, indicating volatility after the sharp recovery from lower levels. The index also recouped a major part of the previous month’s weakness. For July, positional supports are seen at 23500 and then 23300 zones, while on the upside hurdles are placed at 24500 then 24750 zones.

Derivative Strategy

NIFTY

BULL CALL BUTTERFLY : July Series

- June series witnessed a tussle between bulls and bears. Buying was seen from lower levels while selling pressure continued at higher levels.
- Index remained confined to a broad 23500–24500 range from last two series and requires a decisive breakout above this band to trigger the next leg of the rally.
- On the derivatives front, maximum Call OI as well as maximum Put OI are concentrated at the 24000 strike indicating it as a crucial pivot level for the series.
- A Bull Call Butterfly Spread strategy is recommended to capitalize on a moderately bullish outlook as buy on dips expected to continue.

BUY 1 LOT OF 24000 CALL
SELL 1 LOT OF 24500 CALL
SELL 1 LOT OF 24500 CALL
BUY 1 LOT OF 25000 CALL

Bank Nifty

BULL CALL BUTTERFLY : July Series

- Bank Nifty index has been forming higher lows structure on monthly time frame from last three months as buying is visible at lower levels.
- On weekly scale it is consolidating from last three weeks but holding well above its crucial breakout zone.
- On the derivatives front, maximum Put OI is at 57000 strike while Call OI are concentrated at the 60000 strikes, indicating a positive with overall buy on dips stance.
- Hence, a Bull Call Butterfly Spread is recommended to play the upward momentum going ahead.

BUY 1 LOT OF 58000 CALL
SELL 1 LOT OF 59000 CALL
SELL 1 LOT OF 59000 CALL
BUY 1 LOT OF 60000 CALL
