News you can Use

China's exports and imports shrank at a slower pace for a second month in September, customs data showed, adding to the recent signs of a gradual stabilisation in the world's second-biggest economy thanks to a raft of policy support measures. The trade report should provide some encouragement to authorities, although stiff challenges remain in an economy facing persistent deflationary pressure, a long-running property crisis, a slowdown in global growth and geopolitical tensions. Outbound shipments in September declined 6.2% from a year ago, following a drop of 8.8% in August, and beating economists' forecast for a 7.6% fall in a poll. The figures were backed up by new export orders in an official factory survey two weeks ago which showed improvement last month, partly because of a peak export shipping season for Christmas products and favourable base effects. South Korean exports to China, a leading indicator of China's imports, fell at their slowest in 11 months in September. Semiconductors make up the bulk of their trade, signalling improving appetite among Chinese manufacturers for components to re-export in finished goods.

China's consumer prices faltered and factory-gate prices shrank slightly faster than expected in September, with both indicators showing persistent deflationary pressures in the world's second-largest economy. The consumer price index (CPI) was unchanged in September from a year earlier, data by the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) showed, missing the forecast of a 0.2% gain in a poll. CPI rose 0.1% in August. Year-on-year core inflation, excluding food and fuel prices, was 0.8%, in line with August. The producer price index (PPI) fell 2.5% from a year earlier, the 12th straight month in negative territory though the pace of decline slowed from August. Food prices dropped 3.2% from a year earlier, extending a decline by 1.5 percentage points from August and dragging down the CPI. Pork prices shrank 22%, a sharper decline than a 17.9% drop in August. While signs are emerging that China's economy is stabilising, concerns over the sustainability of the recovery persist. The IMF lowered its growth forecasts for China for this year and next, due to the country's property crisis and weak external demand.
