Indo-US Trade deal – Waiting for Godot!

Investors awaiting an India-US trade agreement were again disappointed as no signs of a deal were forthcoming. There is some hope that the agreement may be signed soon, though the deadline has been pushed to July 31st.

U.S. Equities edge lower as investors look for tariff clarity.

Wall Street was in sideways mode, seemingly fatigued by tariff headlines, as the beaten-down dollar posted its second consecutive gain.

The S&P 500 closed nearly flat, and the Dow slipped as markets digested President Trump's extension of the tariff deadline to August 1. Mixed signals from the White House and sector-specific tariff threats, including a new 50% duty on copper, kept traders cautious.

The Nasdaq eked out a slight gain, outperforming other major indices. Mega-cap tech stocks stabilised after recent volatility, with Tesla rebounding and other giants, such as Nvidia and Microsoft, seeing modest moves.

The recent extension of the US tariff deadline has provided temporary relief to global markets, helping to ease investor anxiety and spark attempts at recovery across major indices. President Trump initially set a July 9 deadline for trading partners to finalise new agreements or face steep tariffs. An executive order pushed this back by three weeks to August 1, granting countries more time to negotiate and avoid immediate penalties.

On the domestic front, India Inc.'s first-quarter earnings season for FY26 kicks off this week, with IT giants TCS and Tata Elxsi scheduled to announce results tomorrow, followed by retail major D-Mart on July 11th.

The Nifty displayed a late-session optimism, breaking out of a narrow range that had held it for most of the trading day.

The encouraging sign for the last two trading sessions is that the Nifty has been registering higher highs and higher lows, a bullish indicator. Immediate resistance for the Nifty is now seen at 25,669, a level above which the index could extend its gains confidently towards the 26,000 mark. On the downside, 25331 would continue to serve as crucial support.

Indian markets are likely to open subdued on the back of any immediate triggers.

("Waiting for Godot" by Samuel Beckett is a famous play about two characters, Vladimir and Estragon, who wait endlessly for someone named Godot, who never arrives.)

US small business sentiment ticks down in June

U.S. small-business confidence slipped in June, as firms overall felt they had too much inventory on hand amid ongoing trade tensions and declining optimism over the outlook for sales. The National Federation of Independent Business said on Tuesday its Small Business Optimism Index fell two tenths of a point last month to 98.6. A substantial increase in respondents reporting excess inventories contributed the most to the decline, the NFIB said, with nearly one in eight businesses reporting inventories were "too high" in June, almost double that in May.

Growing Importance of BRICS+

- BRICS+ blocs position in the global economy is certainly impressive. The bloc have increased their share of world output from 23% to 34% since their first summit in 2009, or 38% including the new members (in PPP terms). IMF forecasts suggest this will surpass 40% by 2030.
- Their share of world trade is up from 13% to 22% since 2009. More importantly for this analysis, the group's intra-trade has increased significantly since its initial formation (in 2009, as BRIC). Approximately 28% of the bloc's trade is now conducted among its members, up from 15%. As a share of global exports, intra-BRIC trade has risen from 5% to 9%, or from 10% to 16% including the new members, according to WITS data.
- The bloc is strengthening the tie-up to fight with Western nations.
