Gold retreated on an advancing dollar and diminished expectations for a larger rate cut in November. Dallas Federal Reserve Bank President Lorie Logan said she supported last month's outsized interest-rate cut but wants smaller reductions ahead, given "still real" upside risks to inflation and "meaningful uncertainties" over the economic outlook. Following last week's robust jobs report, markets are expecting an 88% likelihood of a 25-basis-point cut and discounted a 50-bps cut at the Fed's November meeting, according to the CME FedWatch tool.

Festivities spark slight demand in India, China on holiday - Gold demand in India improved slightly due to an upcoming festival but remained lower than usual because of record-high prices, while Chinese markets were closed for a holiday. Indian dealers offered discounts of up to $21 an ounce over official domestic prices, up from the last week's discount of $19. Jewellers are not confident about demand during the festive season and are taking it slow on building up stock. Chinese markets were closed for the Golden Week holiday. Gold discounts in the top consumer widened last week to $16-$7 as demand continued to remain weak. In Hong Kong, gold was sold between a $2 discount and $2 premium. Singapore dealers sold bullion between a $0.60 discount and $2.20 premium. In Japan, traders quoted a $0.25 discount to $1 premium.

China's August net gold imports via HK lowest in over 2 years - China's monthly net gold imports via Hong Kong dropped 76% to their lowest level in more than two years in August, data showed, as a record price rally curbed appetite in the world's top bullion consumer. China imported a net 6.245 metric tons in August, down from 25.659 tons in July, Hong Kong Census and Statistics Department data showed. Imports were at their lowest level since April 2022. Total gold imports via Hong Kong were down 48% at 16.377 metric tons last month.

Swiss August gold exports show no supplies to China, for first time in 3 – 1/2 years - China, the world's largest gold consumer, refrained from gold imports from Switzerland in August, for the first time since January 2021, customs data from the world's biggest bullion refining and transit hub showed. The supplies from Switzerland to China completely dried up in August, after a steady decline in June-July, as rising spot gold prices kept Asian retail buyers at bay. In the absence of shipments to China, and despite higher deliveries to India, Swiss August total gold exports fell to the lowest since June. In India, demand received a boost from July's reduction of the state gold import tax to the lowest in 11 years.

China's gold demand expected to rebound as economic jitters spur buying - Gold demand in China is expected to improve in coming months as consumers adjust to higher prices, industry officials said, with economic uncertainty and concerns about currency weakness driving investment flows. A revival of demand in the world's top consumer of the precious metal could further support the rally in global gold prices, which hit a record high last week. In July, they stayed on the sidelines, but recently, investment demand has picked up again. Discounts are narrowing as demand improves. The rise has been fuelled by a number of factors, including the prospect of interest rate cuts in the United States, global geopolitical tension and increased buying by investors. However, new quotas issued to several Chinese banks in August are intended to help regulate the flow of bullion into the country.
