NIFTY	25935.15	0.26
SENSEX	84273.92	0.25
BANKNIFTY	60626.40	-0.07
INDIA VIX	11.66	-4.31

Market Outlook

The Nifty index continues to remain in a consolidation phase, reflects the indecision near higher levels, however the bullish bias remains intact above the 20-DEMA zone. The index is currently trading around the 26,000 mark, which has emerged as a crucial level. A sustained breakout above this level could infuse fresh strength and open the door for further upside. However, failure to surpass this hurdle may lead to a resumption of the sideways corrective phase. For the next weekly expiry derivative data shows fresh put writing at the 25,900 strike highlights an immediate support, while heavy call OI at 26,000 indicates immediate resistance. A decisive breach of this range is likely to determine the next directional move.

TRADE IDEA OF THE DAY -

BEL CALL SPREAD

BUY 24 FEB 440 CE
SELL 24 FEB 460 CE

Entry Range	5
Target Range	2
Stop Loss	12

Rationale

- After the breakout from the resistance zone of 430 level, BEL witnessed volatile sessions with a sharp rally to the 460 and then price successfully pulled back to retest this breakout zone, suggests a strong base for the next leg of rally.
- On the daily chart, prices are hovering above the 20-DEMA, which has trending upward and acting as a dynamic support level, indicating that the short-term bullish momentum remains intact despite the recent volatility.
- RSI currently placed near 60 mark, indicating strength in prevailing price movement. MACD histogram are also trading in the bullish trajectory, confirming the positive primary trend.
- The early February breakout saw strong volume participation, while declining volumes during recent consolidation signals healthy pause and sustained bullish undertone.
